Steve, here is the approval from my next door neighbors who I share the fence with that will be 10 feet from the pool.

Sean,

Per our discussion we have no problem with your being granted a variance to build your pool as described nor any problem with the proposed location of your pool.

Best regards,

Glenda

That's actually no problem at all. Steve wanted to have room for equipment and access. The pool equipment will be next to the house. There will be a wall and fire bowls closest to your fence. I'm happy to send you the rendering.

Hi Sean,

Talked to Scott and we had one question/request regarding your variance to build your pool. You mentioned the pool equipment would be behind your pool at the 10' line which would put your pool equipment close to our fence right where our dining table and seating areas are on our side of the fence. Our pool pumps etc are on our back fence so it doesn't cause our neighbors noise issues and would just ask that you do the same.

With that caveat we are both good for you to build your pool in your side yard as you explained with the equipment at the back fence.

Take care,

Glenda
